Under Heavy Guard Were Escorted Company Shops, Where They Will Sleep and Eat for the Time Being.

Thirty-five non-union machinists, and Wolf Hunting association. commonly known as "strike- break ers," were brought to Sedalia in a special car, heavily guarded, on Missouri Pacific train No. 3 at 4 o'clock this morning.

The train was stopped at New York avenue, the car of non-union men detached, and, after being reinforced by additional guards from this city, was taken to the shop grounds, where the men will be kept and meals on the grounds.

The mechanics are mostly foreigners, and the guards refused to permit them to open the windows.

A number of striking machinists were in the vicinity of New York avenue when the train arrived, having learned last night that the men would be here, and no sooner had fact.

This afternoon twenty-one additional strike breakers were brought to Sedalia on train No. 1 at 2:30 o'clock

The men, also heavily guarded, occupied a special car behind the baggage car of the train, which was stopped at New York avenue and the men taken to the shop grounds

A current rumor this afternoon states that more strike breakers are to be brought here tonight.

BRIDE AND GROOM DEPAR

Were the Recipients of Number of Beautiful Presents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bras, the latter formerly Miss Pearl Dukes, who were married at the Epworth M. E. church by the Rev. Henry L. Glover at 8 o'clock last night, in the presence of 250 guests, left this morning for Fort Scott, Parsons and Oklahoma City to spend their honeymoon, after which they will be at home to friends at 721 East Fourth street in this city.

The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful, including silverware, cut glass, linen and other pres- shops, residing at 1303 East Tenth in years. A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

Surely happiness is reflective like the light of heaven; and every countenance, bright with smiles and glowing with innocent enjoyment, is a mirror, transmitting to others the rays of a supreme and ever-shining benevolence.—Washington Irving.

ALDRICH AND HALE.

The Review of Reviews for May says that Senator Aldrich's mastery in the senate has been due not merely to the powerful aggregation of interests he is supposed to represent. but also to great personal qualities that make him a natural leader

But the whole country is ablaze with revolt against Senator Aldrich's domination of the senate; and the fight has been carried back into his little state of Rhode Island at a moment when the pendulum is swinging violently away from the type of republicanism that has been the mainstay of certain business inter-

The proposed retirement of Aldrich is followed by that of Senator Hale of Maine, as a matter of course. Aldrich is a leader in his own right, who can stand out and face a situation like a man. Mr. Hale has used now er insolently, but from behind the scenes, so to speak. He is never spoken of as a man who dares to come out in the open to face his foes and take his medicine.

With Aldrich out of the senate. Hale's power in the body would be reduced to something like that of the late Senator Platt, of New York. in his last years. Leadership, in the Aldrich sense is something tha the United Staes senate ought not to have. Each senator should be his own leader.

Mr. Aldrich proposes to go on with the work of the monetary commission. In our opinion his work thus for on the project of devising a good United States has been in every and disinterested, honorable and statesman-like. Men who are not carried away by unique political prejudice will be very glad to see Mr. Aldrich remain as chairman of the monetary commission and will hope that his physical ailments will find speedy remedy. His heart has been in the study of financial reform, and by no means in that tissue of compromises known as the Payne-Aldrich tariff. The head of a monetary commission sees the need of a tariff commission.

A SERIOUS HANDICAP.

Just as sure as you can make people feel that you are square on to your job you may depend upon their coming our way, says the Mail Order Journal.

If a man or a woman gets the ro tion that you are half asleep they will shun your establishment. The notion is bound to prevail about the merchant whose advertisement does not appear in the daily papers. Energy, up-to-dateness, capacity to serve the public to the public's advantage, all find expression in snappy and interesting store announcements.

The retailer is judged largely be what he says about his wares and his business methods. If he says nothing the prospective buyer, accustomed to consult the newspaper columns for information, passes him over for some more aggressive competitor. It is a serious handicap to try to get along without advertising in the Democrat-Sentines.

Ciner and Locomotive.

The great Cunard turbine steamers continue to give evidence of a capacity for speed which has not as yet been fully demonstrated. The Mauretania, in reducing the time between Daunt's Rock and the Ambrose Channel Lightship to 4 days 11 hours and 35 minutes, has cut nearly seven hours from her time for the trip of May 11, more than 5 hours from her record of May 21, and nearly three hours from her voyage of August 20.

What may not be expected from a ping which gives the great liner a ankle and one well shod. new speed record for nearly every trip? A four-day voyage is well within the possibilities when the fast sister greyhounds are fully unleashed.

In effect they have already brought London almost as near to New York in postal time as are the cities of the Pacific coast. A letter mailed in New York requires four days and nine hours to reach San Francisco; it requires less than a day longer to reach London. Taking for comparison the distance by rail between Buffalo and Los Angeles, which approximately represents in mileage the route from Ambrose Channel to Daunt's Rock, a passenger leaving the former city by a morning train on Saturday and catching the Overland Limited at Omaha on Sunday would not reach his destination until Wednesday morning—a journey of

That any time comparison between transcontinental railway and ocean journeys should be possible illustrates the extent to which the liner has encroached on the locomotive's province in the matter of speed. Given a four-day boat, it will be necessary for railroad managers to reduce their schedules of long-distance runs if the locomotive is to retain its prestige.-New York World.

The Rock of Moses.

The "Rock of Moses" lies in the wild valley at the base of Jehul Musa, the Mount of the Law, in the peninsula of Sinai. The rock is 18 or 20 feet high, slightly inclined, a rought indentation running over each side, which is intersected here and there with slits, and the stone is worn away in places as if from the effects of running water. It is beyond doubt the oldest known legendary object in the vicinity. The Koran refers to this rock more than once, and from these allusions arose the reverence of the bedouins, who hold it sacred. From the Middle Ages onward it has been visited by Christian pilgrims, sides.-London Globe.

MODELS THAT ARE EE-ING EXHIBITED.

PINK A VERY WELL LIKED SHADE

Cretonne Linens Are "Fetching" for the New Blouse Waists, According to View & Catherine Mann-Payzant.

CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT. New York, May 26.—That linen is still popular is proved by the many models that are being exhibited. The linen dress covers a wide field. It may be of the heavy weave used for tailored suits, or it may be of a texture so sheer and fine that it is used for the dressiest effects. It is to be found also in all the most popular shades, often heavily braided in soutache or a rope braid to match.

The white linens are not only braided, but a lot of Irish lace is used upon them, and, indeed, some of the coats are half made of lace and embroidery. There is a new linen called the Shantung, because of its resemblance to silk of that name, which, in addition to the natural shade, is a good second in its weaving and silk finish.

The more sheer varieties of linen are very beautiful and are used for evening and dressy effects for summer wear. It must be said that pink is a well liked shade for the summer linen gown. 'The cretonne linens are fetching for the new blouse waists.

A plain tailored suit in "putty" colored linen of a soarse sort was made decidedly smart by the addition of black satin collar and cuff insets, and a black patent belt. The seven-gored skirt was plain except for a stitched fold of the material at the bottom. A good many of these linen skirts intended for utility wear are of ankle length, having the advantage of soiling less readily than a longer skirt, continuous performance in time-clip but it demands a well shaped foot and

> The coat was short, single-breasted and fastened with bone buttors in shaded grey tones. The black collar and reveres were long and narrowed, the V opening deep. Plain coat sleeves were used with insets of black

The hat, turned up on the left side, was high, with an under facing of black satin, and trimmed with great masses of black poppies and loops of Chantilly lace. Black shoes and stockings and black gloves were worn. A parasol of the linen having a hemstitched border done in black in black silk and satin, with wood handle, was

A more dressy costume intended for the afternoon was developed from a white linen having a silk finished surface of silken smoothness. This model was made in the Russian blouse style and tunic skirt. The blouse, almost entirely of crochet lace, was mounted over an under blouse of sheer linen, the V of the outer coat showing its tucked front and chiffon jabot. The sleeves were also short enough to disclose the tucked and frilled cuffs of the under blouse. The belt was a piece of folded linen. The skirt and tunic were trimmed with two deep inset bands of crochet lace. The hat was a large "fifty" model, drooping a little in front and the back, and trimmed with two rows of roses and bow at the left side. A one-piece gown appropriate for a "porch bridge" or garden party was a delightful combination of wistaria linen and embroidery to match. Down the front there is a long broad panel with bands of embroidery to flank

it. The lower part of the panel was also trimmed with bands of the embroidery. The belt was of the embroidery and the waist had a equare collar of the same over the shoulders and straight lines of it to the waist. The front of the waist was a panel, For Rent-Five room house, bath the lower part of the linen and the upper part of tucked net matching in color. The sieeves were rather full gathered into cuffs of the embroidery and two strips of the same were carried from the cuff to the shoulder. This is a good model where length > of figure is desired. Next to the linens comes the piques, | General Insurance that is, when one wishes a heavy material suited for skirts; indeed, they are said to not muss as do the finer linens. Most of the pique skirts shown are extremely plain, but as they are heavy enough to keep their shape and hang well because of their weight this will be a recommendation with many women. A beautiful linen-like goods was shown last week; it was very sheer mounted over a pastel shade of green. Another finely embroidered gown had a foundation of delicate blue and ecru silk which gave a charming effect in the evening.

Navistes are extremely fashionable this summer and many gowns of this fabric will be seen.

Cotton crepes are well liked for house gowns and the mercerized fouards which are to be found in the patterns and shades of the silk goods are to be fashionable.

While cotton voiles are not new. THIS IS PROVED BY THE MANY they have been found so serviceable that they are still in demand.

PARADISE FOR BIRDS.

Barren Puffin Island off the West Coast of Great Britain.

Gaunt and bare Puffin Island rises boldly from the sea at the most eastorly point of Anglesey. Its sides torn and discolored by the waves offer scant welcome to the explorer, but there are several places at which a landing may be made from a small

Naturalists will not object to the forbidding appearance of this half mile length of rock at which the timid look askance. Neglected of man it is the chosen home of thousands and thousands of birds who share its solitude with a few sheep and scores of rabbits. Puffin Island has more than one name. The Welsh call it Ynys Seirol, or the Island of St. Seirol, who had a hermitage here far away in the sixth century and it is also known as Priestholme (the priest's island.)

Perched in the centre of the isle are the ruins of a tower, built in the seventh century. But this scanty spot upon the waters should be named the home of the birds. In myriads they seek it to breed. The keepers of the lighthouse are almost the only human beings they see; they can live their happy lives without the shadow of man to frighten them.

Most in numbers is the puffin-being in the majority it has given its name to the place. This curious looking bird, so ungainly on land rides on the waves wonderfully and dives as surely no other bird can. Come upon it suddenly—it plunges deep into the water and your boat has gone a long distance ahead before it comes to the surface again. In some places the puffin is called the sea parrot and in appearance it is not unlike pretty Stormy petrels find a resting place in this grim retreat; gulls are common; razor bills, cormorants, curlews and divers add to the population. Gannets have been met with and the peregrine falcon. Among these rare specimens the pigeon excites no remark.

Exceedingly curious is the clamor made by these creatures during the breeding time. One might imagine one's self in the House of Commons during a "scene" in which wild words and incoherent sentences are hurled quell the tumult and restore order .-London Evening Standard.

In Order to Be at Work on Time Arises at 4:30 O'clock and Eats Breakfast at Restaurant Near Place of Labor.

Chicago, May 26.—Count "Mike" De Beaufort, son-in-law of M. J. Kilgallen, a millionaire of 3032 Michigan avenue, has been graduated from a course of manual labor in the shops of the Columbia Tool Steel company of Chicago Heights, and now he has taken up railroading as an employe of the Chicago Heights Terminal Transfer line.

Yesterday morning he donned overalls and took up the aristocratic assignment of numbering and trac ing cars.

According to his statement, it is the count's intention to learn the business from "A to izzard," with the intention of some day taking Mr. Kilgallen's place in the interests he now represents. Among other things USA TZ---Mr. Kilgallen is general manager of the transfer line, thirty-two miles

Next year Count De Beaufort expects to enter the employ of the New York Central railroad as baggagemaster, collector or some other position of equal importance, tentative arrangements for which have been concluded, he says.

Last night, attired in silk hat, frock coat, English trousers, purple socks, patent oxfords, a monocle and a broad, British accent, and seated in a handsome automobile beside a square-jawed bull pup, Count De Beaufort told of his daily programme at his new job.

At present he and his bride occupy a suite at the Virginia hotel. In order to be at his work on time, he arises at 4:30 and eats breakfast at a small restaurant on Thirty-first

WHY BIG TREES ARE BIG.

Heavy Rainfall Gives Quick Germina. tion and Steady Growth.

The magnificent forests of Douglass fir in Washington-it is called Washington fir there and Oregon fir (its commercial name) in Oregon-do not have an equal anywhere else in the world. This is not surprising if we take into account the rainfall, which in the Puget Sound country is about fifty-three inches, while up in the higher Cascades near Seattle it is 100 inches and even reaches 150

Under such climatic conditions the seeds of trees germinate readily and all trees continue to make a vigorous growth. These great forests, says Horticulture, are due to the climatic conditions of the region.

On the east slope of the Cascades the rainfall is must less, and here the bull pine is found, interspersed with beautiful white pines which some-times reaches a height of 200 feet and a diameter of 6 feet although there are many trees over 100 feet high and 3 or 4 feet in diameter. The tree resembles our Eastern white pine, but is more slender and with slender spreading or somewhat drooping branches.

The elevator was coming down from the twelfth floor. A man, considerably the worse for drink, was standing on the bottom floor near the shaft, watch in hand, and turning the stem every now and then.

"Why, I did!" was the indignant reply. "Aren't you waiting for it?" "Waiting for nothing!" was the first man's still more indignant answer. "I've been trying to set my watch by this clock here for half an vs. the Missouri Pacific, giving the plaintiff judgment in the sum of $5,-000, says Wednesday's Jefferson City Capital-News.

The case against the railroad company resulted from the death of Mrs. White's husband, who was struck by a Missouri Pacific engine near Etlah, Franklin county, on the 17th day of September, 1907. White died nine days later as a result of injuries received from the accident and left a widow and two children to survive Suit was instituted in the circuit court of Cole county, asking damages in the sum of $10,000.

The entire day yesterday was taken up by the trial. Hon. A. T. Drumm, of this city, and A. W. Walker represented the plaintiff, while Attorneys C. D. Corum, Roy Williams and W. fic. The case was given to the jury about 8 o'clock and shortly before 10 they returned the verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

THE BACCALAUREATE SER-MON SUNDAY.

In Fact, Many Were Unable to Gai Admittance to the First Baptist Church—Synopsis of the Discourse.

(From Monday's Daily)

Rev. Frank Y. Campbell yesterday morning at 11 o'clock delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Sedalia High school in the presence of a large audience.

Twenty minutes before the services opened the church was crowded, and quite a few were turned away. Exactly at 11 o'clock the procession of seniors began from the church parlors into the church.

Lawrence Collins, president of the class, and Miss Audrey Mitzell, the valedictorian, led them. After the seniors followed the members of the faculty and the members of the school board. A synopsis of Rev. Campbell's splendid discourse fol

Text: "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time because the days are evil."-Eph. 5:15, 16. Theme: "Time, Its Value and Right Use as Related to Noble Character Build ing."

Young ladies and gentlemen, I ap preciate this honor the school board of the Cy has conferred upon me. I trust I am in the confidence of the young people of Sedalia, and as far as I am able, I intend to stimulate and help them up the mountain side of character-making. I congratulate you for this hour, an hour you have long since contemplated and faithfully earned. Your happiness is mine, also your teachers, the school board and your parents and friends. I congratulate you for the very in teresting proportions of your class, complimentary both to you and to the young people of this city. And now since this is your commencement, a somewhat start in life, in which I have the honor of taking a part, I ask you to give me your minds and hearts for awhile that there may be mutual profit. Success in life is what is wanted-the mountain peak yonder, up near the sky, with its glory and overlooking and commanding adjacent hills and far stretching plains. This mountain peak is you at your best, after patient and careful training. Edward Evert Hale has said, "To have yourself in such training that you can make the mind and body do the very best-this is success." This is life's highest ideal, inclusive of all the good here and hereafter. And this is within the reach of all. Noble Christian character is yours for the climbing. Wealth may be shut out from some of you, and high position and a higher education, but this never. This success is not achieved by leaps. It does not come as rain, nor as many fortunes. It is a mountain peak, and mountain peaks are by climbing. This peak comes to you only as you climb it You shorten the distance, not it Give up the climbing and you give it up; and you will have to climb, not your parents for you, nor your teachers nor friends.

This, your commencement, I wan to emphasize time, and a right use of time as related to life-making. I say life-making, for each of you is managing a life, and will as the years come and go. And managing a life is more important than managing a Ceremony to Be Performed at S Patrick's Church on Tuesday, May 24 - Couple Going West on Bridal Trip.

(From Sunday's Daily) A surprise marriage will be so emnized in Sedalia next Tuesday morning, when Joseph Feddler, popular railway machinist, and Miss Benna M. Gorrell, one of the pretty and accomplished daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clay R. Gorrell, of 1003 East Fifth street, become husband

The ceremony will be pronounced by the Rev. Fr. S. Neiberg, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church, at that edifice, at 5:30 o'clock. Only mmediate relatives will be present.

After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride-to-be the happy couple will leave on the fast mail train that morning for a visit at Kansas City and at Horton, Kas. where Mr. Feddler's relatives reside, after which they expect to return to Sedalia to locate, although their plans in this particular may be

The angels who fell from their noble work and condition, and became groveling and sensual, manifested clearly in their own course the downward tendency of all transgressions of the divine law. "The Apostles Peter and Jud clearly mark out the punishment visited upon those 'sons of God' who thus betrayed their trust and fell into sin, 'leaving their own habita tion,' their own nature, and affiliating with the human nature. Their punishment has been their deprivation of all such liberties, and their separation from God and from th holy angels; and this restraint called, by the Apostle, 'chains darkness,' while the restrained one themselves, instead of being recog nized as 'sons of God,' or angels light, were thenseforth known 'angels of darkness,' 'demons wicked spirits.' Incidentally we mark that these are the 'spirits prison' mentioned by Peter (1 Pete iii, 19), and that although restricted as respects their powers of fellow ship with the holy angels, and wit mankind, being no longer privileged to appear as men, they still seek h man fellowship, endeavoring to gain possession of human beings who yield up their wills, and who a then said to be possessed of devils or 'obsessed.' It is but a preliminary step toward thus getting possession of the individual that these wicked spirits appeal to humanity to become their mediums (spirit mediums), through whom they to some extent communicate. 'And they personate dead human beings, because they know well that humanity would shun them and fear them if their real identity were discovered.

"Satan and his subordinates have maintained a system of human de ception," the speaker declared, and it must be confessed that he gave Biblical proofs for his every claim.

LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE

Cheerfulness and a bright disposition during the months before baby comes are among the greatest blessings a mother can bestow upon the little life about to begin. Her happiness and physical comfort will largely govern the proper development of the health and hature of the child. Mother's Friend contribu much to the mother's happiness and health by the relief and mental comfort it affords. It is a liniment composed of penetrating oils and medicines which lubricate the muscles and tendons of the body, soothe the swollen mammary glands, cause a gradual expansion of the skin and tissues, and aid in the reli of nausea. The regular use of Mother's Friend greatly lessens the pain and danger when baby comes, and assures a quick and natural recovery for the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. SECRET MARRIAGE

BOYD BECKETT AND MISS COR-NELIA C. BARKER WED LAST NIGHT.

LIGENSE MAN SWORN TO SECRECY

So Was the Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, Who Performed the Ceremony -Bridal Ccuple Departed for Kansas City, Mo.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

A real surprise marriage was solemnized in Sedalia last night, the groom being Boyd Beckett, a popular Missouri Pacific machinist, and Miss Cornelia Crehan Barker, one of the accomplished daughters of Mr. as Mrs. J. H. Barker, of 120 West Fifth street.

The plans of the couple to keep the news a secret from all were executed well, and Mr. and Mrs. Beckett were safely out of town and on their way west before anyone outside of an immediate few was aware of the SAYS OVER KIS OWN SIGNATURE will be concluded about 5:30 p. m. step taken.

The couple had planned an elaborate wedding for June, but several days ago, as was learned by the Democrat-Sentinel at the time, they decided to surprise their friends and be secretly married. Monday was set as the day for the event.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Beckett secured a license to wed from Deputy Recorder H. B. Scott. The latter was sworn to secrecy and he agreed to keeping "mum."

tor of the First Christian church was next engaged to marry the couple. He likewise agreed to keep the news a secret. Promptly at o'clock last night the bride requested her mother to go to the picture shows, as the pictures were exceptionally fine. This Mrs. Barker consented to do.

No sooner had she left home than Mr. Beckett and his intended bride, accompanied by Miss Virginia Dameron and William Shaller, a Missouri Pacific machinist, proceeded to the study of the First Christian church, where the wedding ceremony was said at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Koken-

For months I was troubled with an itching skin eruption on the face, and tried specialists and many remedies to get a cure, but S. S. S. is the only medicine that would cure. I am now free of this eruption. I think a great deal of your medicine, knowing it to be the best blood purifier and tonic known to the world today.

From childhood I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease. My parents had me treated by a number of physicians, but the disease was too much for them. Thus I graw into manhood, handicapped by a terrible disease; and having tried so many remedies without relief, a friend urged me to try S.S.S. I had little faith in any medicine. I was happy to find, however, that I had at last gotten the right remedy. S.S.S. did me so much good that I soon had hopes of being cured. I continued the remedy and was cured completely CHARLES GLENN.

Our bodies are absolutely dependent on pure blood for health. This fluid is the most vital force of life, and as long as it remains pure we are apt to escape disease, but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects some portion of the body.

Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes, and the various skin affections, show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as the result of some humor, or the presence of a fiery acid which inflames and irritates the delicate fibres and tissues. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the circulation, causing soreness and stiffness of the muscies and joints, while Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, and Contagious Blood Poison are all deep-seated blood disorders which will continue to grow worse as long as the cause remains. S. S. S. is a natural blood purifier and tonic. It is made entirely of the pure juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative ability, and being absolutely free from al harmful minerals is a safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes every trace of impurity, humor or poison. It purifies and enriches the blood and cures promptly and permanently Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases and disorders due to impurities and poisons in the blood, whether inherited or acquired. S. S. S. is the most reliable and at the same time the most pleasant acting medicine for those whose blood has become weak and anaemic, or who are suffering from Malaria or other debilitating sickness. It adds strength to the circulation, builds up failing health, and in every way acts as a bracing, healthful tonic to the system. The bath room seems to be well patronized, and the clothes provided long denied. the children are just what any of us would have our children wear while at play. Economy and cleanliness and a just regard for the fitness of things mark the present management of this institution, and instead of being short-lived, its need in the community will be felt more and more each day, until finally it will become a public necessity and a perpetual institution. It now cares for fourteen children, which number does not represent all the children in Sedalia in need of it, and as our city grows more children will experience its benefits.

The charity which this institution dispenses is worthy and deserving of the support and encouragement of the people of this community. The care of helplessness, whether found in infancy or old age, is a burden which society must bear and discharge to its members.

It is not merely a matter of sentiment (though so judged, worthy of practice and emulation), but a duty which must be performed, and question deep-rooted in the political economy of our times and the pres ervation of our species.

THREE BODIES IN MORGUE AS THE RESULT OF TREACH-ERY OF MEN.

THE SAD MISSION OF MISSOURIANS

Two Daughters Dead at Springfield and Also the Infant of One of Them-Back to the Old Home for Burial.

Three bodies lie in the morgue of the Lohmeyer-Stader undertaking establishment, mute witnesses to the eject women of unfavorable reputatreachery of lovers of Lura and May Haizlip, dauguters of M. C. Haizlip, a farmer of Laclede county, who was summoned to Springfield yesterday by the announcement that the older of the two girls. 22 years of age, and her 12-day-old child had died in a stuff; room in a hotel at 612 North Main street, and that the younger sister and her child were also at the point of death, says the Springfield Leader of May 20.

Lura, the younger of the two sisters. died this morning at 5:15 o'clock, exactly twenty-four hours after the death of her sister. The bodies of her sister and her sister's child had already been removed to the morgue and her body was taken there this morning. The three bodies will be shipped to Lebanon tomorrow morning and will be conveyed by wagon twenty miles east to the home of Haizlip, where a triple funeral will be held Saturday after-

On her death bed last night the young girl asked that her father care for her baby. Haizlip said this morning that both the men accused of gronging the sisters had made their escape and had not been seen since the girls came to Springfield from Richland.

The young women left the home of their father last October, going to Richland, where they were employed as domestics. Both were strong and healthy girls and secured work without difficulty. In January the younger of the two girls became the mother of the child which is still living. She told her father of the fact some time later and made arrangements to keep it in the children's home here It was learned that the child had been subjected to the measles and it was sent back to its mother.

A short time ago the older of the two sisters went to work at the Eagle hotel, at which place the other child was born two weeks ago. The younger of the two sisters was em ployed at the Queen City hotel at the time and went to the other place to assist in the care of her sister. Here all four became afflicted with measles and later with penumo-

The death of the infant of May Haizlip occurred some time Wednes day night or Thursday morning. A nurse went into the room during the forenoon and found the lifeless boly of the child beside its mother. The young women were asleep and did not know that the child was dead.

An undertaker was called and af ter preparing the body for burial in a tiny comin left it in care of the humane officer, who was notified of the condition of the unfortunate group and who assisted in making the death chamber less dangerous to the surviving inmates.

The body of the dead infant was left in the sample room with the sick sisters and the other child. the humane officer said this morning. He stated the proprietor of the house refused to allow the casket in another room and refused to leave it outside the stuffy room occupied by its mother, her siter and the other sick baby. It was removed the next morning, with the body of its mother, to the undertaking rooms.

"I would have come to their relief any time." the father of the two girls said this morning. "I did not know that May was a mother until of the girls has been dead ten years and they have been away from home much of the time since they have been old enough to look after them selves. I will see that the little boy is cared for. in accordance with the dying wish of his mother. "It is unfortunate that the young women should be left to the treachery of such men, but that can not be helped. I am sure they would not have died if they had received medical attention when it was most needed. Both have always been in the best of health, but no one could live in such alth as I found them."

have died. Some action may be ta ken against parties who are believed to be guilty of criminal negligence in allowing the young women to re main in such conditions.

That the room and its surroundings were the most unsanitary she had ever visited was the statement of Mrs. J. T. Henshey, the nurse who was employed by the humane society and the city to care for the unfortunate young women after their condition was reported to the authorities. One room. scantily furnish. ed, with a single lwindow, served as a trap in which three lives were Was Married on March 27, Last, to snuffed out.

FREIGHT TRAINS ON THE M., K. & T. MET IN A HEAD-ON COL-LISION SATURDAY.

FIREMAN STRAIT LOST HIS LIFE

Miss Mayme Shaw at New Franklin-The Couple Made Their Home in Sedalia.

(From Sunday's Daily.) Elmer O. Strait, a fireman, was scalded to death; H. D. Birkheimer, engineer, was slightly cut on the face, and W. H. Dey, conductor, was slightly injured in the back when two M., K. & T. freight trains met head-on half way between the passing track and switch at Boonville at 6:50 o'clock Saturday morning.

Strait and Birkheimer resided in Sedalia. Dey lived at New Franklin. The cause of the collision was unknown Saturday, and will not be learned until an official investigation is held.

The two trains were the first section of M., K. & T. train No. 403, going fifteen miles an hour, with Engineer Birkheimer in the cab of engine No. 481, and the third section of M., K. & r. train No. 404, with Engineer Fent in the cab of engine No. 494. Both engines remained on the track, but were badly demolished. Strait was caught in the cab of his

ANOTHER SWOPE SUIT

This Time It Is the Mother of Mrs. Hyde Who Files It.

Kansas City, Mo., May 23.-Another suit to partition the estate of the late Col. Swope has been filed at Independence, Mo.

The suit was filed on behalf of Mrs. Sixty years ago Saturday, at Logan O. Swope and asks a partition the age of 131/2 years, Col. J. West of the property left to the five unmarried daughters of Mrs. Swope. It covers different property from that named in the suit filed Friday by Mrs. B. Clark Hyde, wife of Dr. Hyde.

> In the Saturday suit the court is asked to determine judicially the interest of the various plaintiffs and defendants in the properties listed and to appoint a commissioner to sell them and divide the proceeds among the respective heirs. Mrs. Hyde is made defendant, and would receive $25,000 in excess of the sum anticipated by her suit filed Friday.
